Limeade

The Webkinz were ready to meet a couple of new friends. Both of their new friends are supposed to be two different kinds of species that they are not used to. "Do you know who's coming today?" asked Lulu to the rest of her friends.

"Nope. I guess we have to find out for ourselves." said Chandler. Suddenly, the doorbell rang.

"I got it!" said Stripes as he went to answer the door. Standing in the doorway was a gecko that looks like the Geico gecko that the Webkinz sometimes see in commercials, but female.

"Hello. You must be Stripes, one of many of my new friends." said the gecko.

"And you must be Limeade, the Lemon Lime Gecko. That's a cool name." said Stripes.

"Thank you. Can I come in and meet the rest of your friends?" asked Limeade.

"You sure can." said Stripes. Limeade came in.

"Hello. I am Lulu. Nice to meet you. You will recognize everyone's faces eventually." said Lulu.
